

WIN FREE GROUND HANDLING FOR A YEAR

Would you like free worldwide ground support for one year? That's the prize on offer from Universal Aviation, the ground support arm of Universal Weather and Aviation (Stand 347).

All you have to do is visit the stand and leave your details. The winner will be drawn on Thursday at 11am.

Aircraft up to a maximum take-off weight (MTOW) of 99,207lb (45,000kg) are eligible for as many as 60 visits with free ground support services at Universal's facilities.

"This promotion is an opportunity to introduce operators to our facilities and services, who may not have been previously exposed to the high level of service of Universal Aviation locations throughout Europe and the rest of the world," says Adolfo Aragon, vice president, Universal Aviation.

"We're proud of our ground support service, which operators recently rated as the best handling service in the world in one well-known business aviation trade publication."
