Private Aircraft Preclearance at Shannon Airport

Q: When will private aircraft preclearance processing at Shannon Airport begin?

A: CBP will start up the new program at Shannon Airport on March 1, 2010.

Q: What is a Preclearance inspection?

A: A preclearance inspection is essentially the same inspection an individual would undergo at a U.S. port of entry. U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) operates 15 preclearance ports of entry in Canada, Aruba, Bermuda, the Bahamas and Ireland.

Q: What is preclearance of private aircraft?

A: CBP is expanding its operations beyond simply preclearing commercial travelers in Shannon, Ireland to include the processing of flights that qualify as private aircraft per 19 CFR 122.1(h). This program will include inspections of all travelers, their personal articles and the examination of aircraft. All laws and regulations for entering the United States apply.

Q: Will the new program include any other types of aircraft processing?

A: No. Private aircraft processing does not include public or military aircraft, and CBP does not preclear cargo.

Q: Who can be precleared on a private aircraft?

A: All travelers meeting the normal documentary requirements for entering the United States on private aircraft will be inspected. Only signatory carriers are eligible to transport Visa Waiver Program applicants.

Q: During what hours will CBP preclear private aircraft?

A: CBP will process private aircraft at Shannon Airport daily from 7 a.m. – 3 p.m. (Zulu/GMT).
