General/Passenger Information

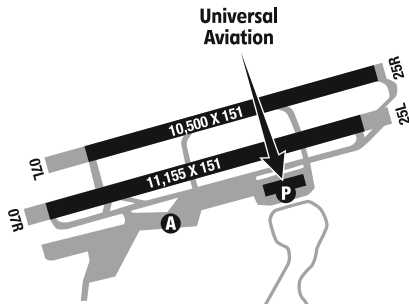

After Pakistan gained independence from Great Britain in 1947, Karachi was the new national capital until it was replaced by Rawalpindi in 1959. Karachi is located in southern Pakistan on the Arabian Sea at the northwestern edge of the Indus River Delta. It's the capital of Sind Province, with a mostly hot, dry desert climate. Flooding occurs occasionally after heavy rains (July and August) along the Indus. Visit Wazir Mansion and Pakistan's beautiful natural beaches. Purchase a handmade carpet or some of the country's other wonderfully crafted artworks.

Driving directions

Directions to airport

Jinnah International Airport is located on Karachi's main artery, the Shahrah-e-Faisal. From the city center, travel away from the Sheraton Hotel toward the airport, joining Shahrah-e-Faisal when you see the Avari Towers & Hotel to your left. After passing the Stargate intersection, turn left at the next traffic signal onto Jinnah Avenue and travel straight toward the Jinnah International Airport.

Directions to office

All incoming traffic delivers crew and passengers on a bridge outside the International Departure Gate. Facing the gate, locate the Office Block entrance to the right side. From there, take the elevator to the Fifth Floor and look for our office number (5026) and name displayed on top.
