Universal Aviation at Khabarovsk invites you to Eastern Russia. For more than 15 years, we have coordinated services at every international Far East and East Siberian airport. Our friendly and experienced personnel are proud to provide excellent services and make your trips easy and unforgettable.

Open 24 hours, Khabarovsk is recognized as the ideal technical stop for all types of aircraft flying between the US, Canada, and the Pacific Rim.

Originally founded as a military settlement, Khabarovsk is the capital of Khabarovsk Territory in Far Eastern Russia, located on the great Amur River. With a population estimated at nearly 600,000, the city is a major industrial and cultural center.

Visitors to picturesque Khabarovsk are likely to enjoy walking the broad Amursky Boulevard, with its many vibrant shops, Orthodox churches, and museums. The downtown area has been renovated in recent years, updating public facilities while maintaining historic structures and architecture. Seasonal temperatures range from January -7F/-22C to July 72F/22C.
